LOCAL AGENTS WANTED.

We de de to procure the services of a local agent in every Postoffice District in the State. Will our friends ac', or procure the acryless of some efficient person in our behalf? Be'teving that the circulation of the Democrat may be malerially extended, we make this appeal to our friends in its technif.

14 It has excited a good deal of enriosity to know why Teunessee is exempted in that famous or infamous proclumation. It is true she was precipitated into this rebellion; so were the other States in Dixie; but no secreded State has done more to aid the rebellion. Why, then, she has not the honor to suffer the penalty inflicted on the rest we cannot see. There ls, however, no logical consistency in the quarter whence this proclamation comes. The other exemptions seem equally capriclous. Where there is power to carry out the prociamation partially, it is to be inoperative; where the Federal army has no power to emancipate a white man from the power of the rebellion, there Abraham Lincoln declares the negro

The border States are exempted, as we ex pected; but here the exemption is not so real as apparent. It is well known that some Federal regiments in this State receive fugitive slaves into their lines; some entice them into their lines, and some force them in. When the owner applies for his slaves by a civil process, he is insulted and threatened, and the negro secreted and protected. It an officer obeys the laws of this State, or declares be will obey them, he is dismissed from the ser-

It seems from the address of Butler to his troops, that he has been practicing on the proclamation in advance, on his own account. All a negro has got to do is to escape to the lines of some parcicular regiment and he is protected in defiance of laws and Coastitutions. This process has been going on for twelve months. Mr. Lincoln exhorts his friends, the "American citizens of African descent," to work for reasonable wages. That's hard on Sambo; 10 be free, and yet exported to work; but what wilt Mass' Lincoln do with the old and young who can't work? Wao will take care of them? He will take his men into the army and employ them; how will Mass' Abe get along with the rest?

But we need not discuss the absurdity. After constitutional liberty has been so long established, after it has been reduced to a reience, here comes a man suppresed to have honesty and capacity caough to be elected Presilent of a Government of strictly limited powr, assuming unlimited despotie authority over States, property and persons. This spectacle will astonish the civilized world. Our statesmen all along supposed that States were real units, important, indispensable parts of the Union, and that the reserved rights of the States were as important as the rights of the Federal Government. We are now startled with the announcement that the President of this limited Government, who only has power to nee force to execute the laws of the Union, is, by this war power, able to absorb all the of Government. Upon the came orinciple he can dispense with Congress and discretion than the Czar of all the Russlas, sit on his solitary throne wrapped in the solitude of his own originality.

You have no idea of the depression there is in the army at the result of this third attempt to go to titchmond. That it is a complete failure no one can deny. The causes of it may be an open question; but one thing is certain: that there will have to be different management, or we shall not be a nation much longer, and shall have Jett. Davis to rule over us. I dare not write what I think to you from what I can gather in the limited time I have to do to observation and thought; but this is certain: that the President has got to stop acting as Commander-h.-Chief, a part of his Cablact be removed, and another man placed at the head of the army, politicians in and out of Congress silenced, and, more than all, the people take hold of the interests of the contry, stop carrying on the war for sellish ends, people take hold of the interests of the country, stop carrying on the war for sellish ends, and also all keep quiet and let the army alone.

I have tound but one opinion in the army alone about the merits of Generals. The army, alonest to a man, are ter McClellan; and, it you awared the army to concern a peace, you have

Here is an honest depublican, who speaks, what all men know, that McClellan ongbt to be restored to com mand. He does not speak of it as a thing roper, but necessary to be done. But it is seless for him to speak. The country, for two or three months, is hetrayed and sold to the limp of darkness, in the shape of radicalism. The President is alike disregardful of the Constitution of the land, the will of the cople, and the dem and of the army. CHIVALRY .- In the beginning and in the progress of this war we have heard much of the chivalry of the rebels; and God knows we have seen some of it in this State. ARTEMUS WARD'S "PIECE "-Mr. Charles F. And it is not enough to say that the andience were pleased—they were really delighted. Mr. Browne possesses a grand linagination—a very great genins. Indeed, he is the creator of a style of literature, and, as such, a literary benefactor. Our streets, and shops, and houses are almost entirely deserted. Every one has gut away that could, by fair or foul means, and the military have bad possession of everything. They have not, I regret to say, been scrupplous in regard to right. Dwellings have been sacked, stores have been broken open, plantations selzed, negroes accoutred as soldiers, women driven into the streets, men shut up in prisons, property confiscated and sold, pockets rified, and grave offeness sanctioned as military necessities—all in the name of liberty and Union; while the grand genius of all this work, and his satelites and confederales, stood by, like another Nero, glutted with savage self-complacency, smilling on the ruin erumbling around us.

Desertess.—There are no less than one hundred deserters from the Third, Fifteenth, Twenty-third and other Kentucky regiments, now lurking about Newport, Kentucky. A squad of eighteen cavalrymen, in one body, was seen a day or two ago, not far from that place, and efforts have been made to arrest them, but sense of their allegiance to the brother of the late commanding General, to use his own words, "running nineteen plantations," and taking off the crops with negroes enlisted as soldiers, but set to work as laborers, ander the gnard of United States solders to keep them straight; and this brother, protected by and under the wings of the head of the department, buying all the tobacco, whisky, cotton, &c., in the country at half its value, under the threat that, if not given to him at his estimate, it would be selzed by the United States (?) confiscated, and sold. From gentlemen just from General Grant's From gentlemen just from General Grant's headquarters we leaf u some particulars of recent movements which we embjoin:
General Grant had moved his forces this side of Tallehatchie, and the prospect now is that he will open the Memphis and Charleston Road from Memphis to Lagrange; thus making Memphis intend of Columbus the base of his supplies.

Van Dorn's forces, after the destruction of property at Holly Springs, moved to Columbus.

Van Dorn's forces, after the destruction of property at Holly Springs, moved to Coldwater, whence they were followed by General Morgan. Finding he was pursued, Van Dorn then moved on toward Bolivar. At Davis' Mills, on Sunday noon, General Morgan came up with him, and Inflicted on him a very se vere punishment. It is supposed that not less than three hundred Confederates were killed and wounded in this tight. Van Dorn then took a large port of his wounded with him, leaving his dead to be buried by the Federals, and moved off towards Bolivar, passing north of Lagrange.

Several persons were lound on the road comlag into Memphis and turned back. But the rain came up, and, it is alleged, spolled their fin! They then concluded to give it up, as it was supposed that some of Grant's torces might be found around the city now! It will be recollected that General Sigel has everely consured General McDowell for alleged neglect to desend Thoroughfare Gap from the approach of Longstreet to Join Jack-son. It came out in evidence to-day that Gen. McDowell Issued an order, which was sent to General Sigel, and which General Sigel adults, made ample provisions for the defense of Thoroughfare Gap. General Sigel did not re-member the last part of the order referring to the disposition of other troops than his own, but was obliged to admit that It was his duty to have made himself acquainted with the

to have made himself acquainted with the whole order. It appears that General McDowell defended the Gap with twice the force General Sigels estimated should be put there, and General Sigels estimated should be put there, and General Sigel did not know it.

It is supposed that Sigel's hatred of McDowell arose from the fact that he had been put under him on the field by the order of General Pope. The latter, it is already known, had no confidence in Sigel, but called him, in a letter to Halleck, perfectly unreliable. Does this account, also, for the toet that Sigel has for months permitted to go uncontradicted the story that he charged McDowell with treachery and attempted to shoot him on the field? Really, it begins to look very much as though Sigel had kind o' played out. though Sigel had kind o' played out.

How General Blunt Bluffed Hudman

FORT SCOTT, Dec. 23, 1862. General Blunt has won considerable military honor by the late fight in Arkansas. The men of the Kansas Brigade thluk he is the best General in America, and should at once be promoted to a Major Generalship, and put with the army of the Potomac, with the Kansas army to back him up. Numerous ancedotes are told about the General's bravery, and his general conduct upon the field and in camp. Among them, one in reference to his conference with lindman, under a flag of truce, shortly after the battle. Hindman requested an unlistence of three days his order to quested an armistice of three days, in order to oury the dead and take care of the wounded. General B'nut replied as lollows: "I will be ready to light you in thirty min-ates. Our wounded have been taken care of,

and the dead will do well enough until we be fight as soon as that?"
Geu. B.—"Yes; we are ready at any time.
If you will bring your forces out on the open prairie, I'll fight you with the Kansas brigade."

Gen. B —"If you will take off your linen, you will see a Mojor General whipped in less than tea minutes." The above is a portion of the dialogue held between the Generals the morning after the

SIR SPRING.

[From the German.]

Spring came o'er the land supine, The gental. princely fellow,
With golden locks, soft, curling, fine,
With eyes both bright and mellow.
His good steed was a butterfly,
On which he proudly sate:
Before him, as a page, did hie
A bright firefly, in state.

And, as he came within a wood,
He found it sad and drear;
The leafless trees all shivering stood.
Their branches dry and sere.
When he this wood examined well,
Ite said: "Here will I house!"
And added, viewing hill and dalo;
"And here will I carouse!"

May-zephyrs now did fan the alr—
The veil of clouds dispersed;
The vernal sun shone bright and clear,
Its beams the wood traversed.
May-breezes blew adown the valc,
The hidden springs all swelling;
And followed the first snuberm's trail
A rustling and a welling.

And in the torpid, failed trees
There was a busy stirring;
They budded, blossomed, in the breeze,
And leaved, whout demurring.
And also there, of fresh green moss,
Upon the explanade,
Broidered with flowers small and grass,
A table cloth was laid. Soon in the trees the birds did build

Soon in the trees the birds did build
The counting little nest;
While in the folinge were concealed
Mosicians of the best.
And when, from their delightful song,
The birds, fatigued, abstatu,
Young Spring-born frogs, with longs quite strong,
The symphony maintain.

Now, when the joyons, smlling May Saw all prepared well,
He to the Sexion sent straightway,
To ring the dinner bell;
The cuckoo cried! and far and near
'Twas echoed o'er the earth;
In every corner to declare
Of gentle Spring the birth.

This, without doubt, was the Alabama; for it answers her description en-Alabama; for it answers her description entirely, and we alrealy have information that on the 9th—six days before—Captain Semmes, from information received from a vessel that he had boarded off Point Morant, Jamaica, concluded to let the Ariel proceed on her veyage while he went in an opposite direction. Consequently, having transacted the tittle business he had in hand, he constites took up his station in this passage to overhall the Ocean Queen and America, both of which he, without doubt, knew were due at that point within a few hours of the time the above described vessel was seen in the passage.

WHEN THE OCEAN OUEDNAND AMERICA SALED.

WHEN THEOCEAN QUEEN AND AMERICA SAILED. The voyage from New York to Caicos Passage rarely exceeds five days. Therefore both vessels should have passed through it on the lich at the lattst. The Alabona was there on the 15th, to be in time, and it she has really ciptured the two steamers, their value with have paid then for waiting.

The steamer Champ.on left New York on the 32d instant, five days before the televessel being likewise land and the recont operations of the Alabama, would take the be almost certain that the news could not reach Washington in time for even a more aclive man than Secretary Welles to dispatch war vessels upon the track. Thus there is a strong probability that this vessel has also be lore this time tallen a proy to the pirate.

BUT WHAT IS THE GOVERNMENT DOING IN THE

C. VANDERBILT. The above action of Secretary Welles would very good if it did not happen that it comes a little too late. As far as the Alabama is con-cerned, if she has done anything, the whole four sceamers ere this have been captured and bonded, or perhaps the last three that sailed bonded, or perhaps the last three that sailed may have been burned. Who knows? Certainly not Secretary Welles, The United States gnuboat Connection is to sail to-morrow, while it is well known the Champlon, the last of the lonr, it taken at all, would have been captured last Saturday. The story of locking the stable after the horse has been stolen is here verified to the letter. The naval Secretary's action may be all very well for the future; but as regards the tone vessels—Arlel, Ocean Onceu. Have you seen the glass attachments to the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine? The new braider is acknowledged by every one who has seen it, as the most wonderful thing yet brought ont. Call and examine for yourselves, at our office, No. 1 Masonic Temple.

WM. Sumner & Co., Agents.

The Wheeler and Wilson Sewing Ma chine is scknowledged to be the best family machine ever offered to the public. With the late improvements, consisting of the magic glass cloth presser, and improved hemmer, the braider and corder, all of which accompany our lm proved machines, render it far superior to any in the market. Over one hundred thonsand of these machines sold in the United States. Every machine warranted for three years.

WM. SUMNER & Co., Agents, No. 1 Masonle Templ

Fathers, brothers, husbands, sons friends, you will each of you be making a New Year's present. Let us pause before buying, and think, "What shall I buy?" and ther let your mind revert to scenes of domestic hampliness and comfort and how tunnel can be happiness and comfort, and how much can b happiness and comfort, and how inneh can be done by the apppliance of art and skill to further increase that happiness and comfort; our word for it, and the first thought will be the vast ald the Sewing Machine gives to efforts to enjoy the sunshine of life, therefore, we say, combine good with pleasure, by all means purchase a sawing machine; let it be a Grover & Baker, pronounced to be the most perfect, and in price placed within reach of every one. Think of this; call at their warcrooms, No. 5, Masonie Temple, Fourth street.

FORTY-FOURTH KENTUCKY INFANTRY -Avoid the Draft !- The War Department having authorized the rasing of nine months' men in lieu of the draft in Kentucky, Colonel Isaac Shelby Fodd has been authorized by lovernor Robinson to recruit a regiment of nine months' men, to be mustered into the service of the United States as infantry. They will be entitled to the same pay, clothing, and allowances as other troops except that they will receive no bounty. In all other respects, they will be on the same footing as other troops heretofore raised in this State.

John M. Semple, of Lonisville, is associated with Colonel Todd as Lieutenant-Colonel, and James T. Bramlette, of Adair county, as Major.

Those who desire to raise companies for this regiment (Forty-fourth Kentucky), will address Colonel Todd, at Shelbyville; Lieutenant-Colonel Semple, at Louisville; or Ma-jor Bramlette, at Columbia, Kentucky; when they will receive the proper authority to progress with the work. HEADQ'S TWENTY-RIGHTH REG. KY. VOLS.)

FROM NASHVILLE.

The Battle of Stone's River-An Intelligible Account of it—The Movements of the Various Corps—The Vicistiudes of the Fight—The Battle of Wednesday—The Battle of Thurs—

[Special to the Cincinnati Commerciai.] NASHVILLE, Jan. 1. I have just arrived from a terrific hattle, on Stone's river, in front of Musfreesboro, on the west side of that town. It has raged with more initing fury two days, and at last report was not yet decided. It is one of the most ferocious of modern times, sustained by both sides with splendid determination. General Rosscrans marched from Nashville General Rosecrans marched from Nashville last Friday, with about 45,000 effective men and one hundred pieces of artiliery, and skirmished all the way to the battle-field, the enemy resisting bitterly. The whole of Tuesday was spent tu reconnoitering. The enemy were found strongly posted, with artillery, in a bend of Stone's river, his flanks resting on the west side of Murfreesboro.

The center also had the advantage of high ground, with a damse growth of cedar masking them completely. Their position gave them the advantage of a cross fire, and General McCook's corps closed la on their left on Wilkerson's creek. Negley, of Thomas' corps, worked, with great difficulty, to the front of the rebel center. Roussean's dvision was in reserve. A battle was expected all day Tucsday, but the enemy merely skirmished and threw a few shells, one of which killed Orderly McDonald, of the 4th United States eavalry, not ten feet from General Rosecrans. That afternoon the Auderson Pennsylvania cavairy, on McGook's flink, was drawn into an ambuscade, and its two Majors, Rosengarten and Ward, were killed.

Crittenden's corps lost four k-lied and two wounded that day, including Adjurant Elliott, wounded that day, including Adjurant Elliot, of the Seventy-lift Indiana, severely wounded. McCook's loss was about fifty. The same day the rebel cavalry made a dash on our rear at Gen. Rosecrans in Person the rebel cavarry made a dash of our rear at Lavergne, burned a few wagons, and captured thirty-live prisoners. That night dispositions were made to attack the enemy lut the morning. After dark the enemy were reported massing upon McCook, obviously to strike our right wing. This corresponded with the wishes of Gen. Rosecrans, who instructed Gen. McCook to hold him in check stubbornly, while the left wing should be thrown into Marfreesboro behind the enemy.

left wing should be thrown into Marfreesboro behind the enemy.

At daybreak of the last day of December, everything appeared working well. Battle hid opened on our right, and our left wing was on hand at seven o'clock. Ominons sounds in 'icated that the fire was approaching on the right. Aldes were dispatched for information, and found the forests full of flying negroes, with some straggling soldiers, who reported whole regiments falling back rapidly.

Meantime one of McCook's aids announced to Gen. Rosecrans that Gen. Johnston had permitted the three batteries of his division to be captured by a sudden attack of the enemy, and that that fact hid somewhat deams of the sum o to be conceived. Phousands of men are killed and desperately wounded. The woods and roads are fued with exhausted and cow ardly s.ragglers of both armles.
